SYRACUSE.

Syracuse, N. Y., May 16.-For the third time this semester a family in the faculty has been called to mourn the loss of one of its members. On Tues-day last occurred the sudden death of Mrs. John O. Bentley, the daughter of Dr. Eugene Hannel. The fact that Mrs. Bentley had been married only few weeks makes the bereavement especially sad. Professor Berwald will give a piano recital on Monday evening, and on Thursday evening Clarence Eddy is to give an organ recital, both to be in Crouse College Music Hall.

The student body is well pleased with the show-Saturday. They scarcely expected 45 to 66. Lewis took a second in one hurdle and a third in the other. It was a disappointment to see Neville allow himself to be outgeneralled in the half-mile. Whittimore and Lee rolled up a good number of points, the former taking 15 and the latter 13. At least three of the records will stand comparison with any of the records made this spring in any of the college meets. They are the 109 yards in 10 seconds and the broad jump at 22 feet 1 inch, both by Whittimore, and the 440 yards, by Lee, in 50 2-5 seconds.

The work of the University crew has shown a marked improvement this week. "Bob" Cook has been with the men every day, and will remain with the crew until the race. The varsity are now beating the freshmen on stretches of a mile or so as regularly as they met defeat in these same brushes a month ago. On Wednesday the mile course was covered in less than five minutes, with the slow stroke. The only change this week has been the substitution of Mills for Greenway at No. 4, Greenway being laid off for a rest. The worst danger to the crew at present is the possibility of overtraining. The weights of the men are away down, and with Greenway and Rogers both out of sorts within a week of each other for no apparent reason it is thought by some that the crew is already overtrained. The order of rowing is as follows: Stroke, Langford: 7, Griswold; 6, Allen: 5, Captain Bailey; 4, Mills; 3, Canapbell; 2, Whitney, and how, Rogers. Marsh and Greenway are also at training table.

The entering of an eight in the Harlem Regatta on Decoration Day has become a certainty, and the men are rowing together every day. The crew will not in any way represent the University, nor will in have any conn

PRINCETON.

Princeton, N. J., May 16.-Last week at Princeton was an unusually busy one. In addition to several ordinary athletic contests which brought many visitors to town, on Friday, Saturday and Sunday the place was full to overflowing with alumni and guests of the students, who came to attend the annual senior dance on Friday night, the championship baseball game between Harvard and Princeton on Saturday, and the play of the Triangle Club on Saturday night. Sentor singing on the steps of Old North attracted a great throng, the front campus having much the appearance of commencement week. The senior dance was one of the most successful balls ever given at Prince-

The winning of the annual debate with Yale is a source of great gratification to Princeton men, and debating has received a great boom thereby. Plans are already being discussed for next year's contests, and every effort will be made to turn out a winning team. Sterling, '77, the leader of the Princeton team in the recent debate, is the only prominent debater who will be graduated this year. Professor Charles Augustus Young, the astronomer, addressed the Philadelphian Society at its weekly meeting, on the subject of the relation of science to God and the Christian religion.

A meeting of the Sophomore Dance Committee was held on Wednesday evening for the purpose of making final arrangements for the annual sophomore reception for the members of the graduating class. The recention will be held in the Casino on the evening of June 18.

At a meeting of the Kiskiminetas Club, D. F. Altland, '88, was elected president for the ensuing year; J. F. Wilson, '99, was chosen vice-president, and B. Lamson, '00, secretary and treasurer. H. G. Ewer, '99, was elected a member of the Executive Committee. The club decided to hold its usual annual banquet at the Inn, in honor of entering members of the club.

The Southern New-York Club has been reorganized, with E. A. McAlpin, '93, as president; J. W. Kinney, '99, vice-president; G. A. Armstrong, '98, secretary, and N. D. Beiknan, '90, treasurer.

Howard Crosby Butler, '92, University lecturer in archeology, has been appointed a fellow of the American School of Classical Studies at Rome for the coming year, Mr. Butler will start for Italy in June. The director of the school for the coming year will be Professor C. L. Smith, of Harvard, and Professor Richard Norton, of Bryn Mawr, will be in charge of the department of archeology. The members of the school have been prevented from visiting Greece this year on account of the war. The winning of the annual debate with Yale is a

WESLEYAN.

Middletown, Conn., May 16.-The junior society 'Corpse and Coffin" has elected its new men from the sophomore class. The men are N. L. Rockwell, F. C. Sargent, C. R. Smith, C. H. Spencer, J. E. Tackaberry, J. M. Townsend and O. E. Yale.

The Middletown Scientific Association held its monthly session last Tuesday evening in the lower monthly session last Tuesday evening in the lower chapel. Professor Conn gave a short preliminary discussion of the new antidote for all poisonous snake bites which was lately discovered by Pasteur in his laboratory in Paris. Following this the chief paper of the evening was given by Professor Merrill on "The Story of the Roman Forum."

The freshman class has appointed its committee in the committee of the professor which follows immediately after for the banquet which follows immediately after the last examination. The men are Nivison, chair-man; Douglass, Treat, Huribut and Phelps. Burman; Douglass, Treat, Huribut and Phelps. Burleigh and Taylor were appointed as the Committee on Class Photography.

The athletic games between Trinity and Wesleyan will not be held this year, and the proposed tennis tournament with Trinity has also been given up, but agreements are under consideration for holding the latter next fall.

Haseball enthusiasm has received a damper from the result of the last three games against Lafayette, Yale and Manhattan. An unusual amount of poor team work fielding errors and poor coaching has been manifest. The team has been crippled for pitchers, it is true, Davis having to go into the box from third against Lafayette, and B. Smith, a freshman, who put on a suit for the purpose, against Manhattan. But this is only partly responsible. The Yale game was a disgrace to the team and has necessitated another shake-up. Guernsey goes to short from second. Wilson to second from right field, leaving Rockwell, Andrews and Jester for right and centre.

TEACHERS' COLLEGE.

The department of science issues a programme for 1897-'98, which in its schedule of extension classes shows that no fewer than six courses are offered to outside people. This is considerably in excess of the courses formerly given. The additions have been made to meet a demand from teachers, especially those of grammar grades, throughout the New-York district. The department of science is conducted by John F. Woodhull, professor of physical science, physics and chemistry; Richard E. Dodge, professor of earth science—geography and Dodge, professor of earth science—geography and geology, and Francis E. Lloyd, the newly appointed professor of biological science—botany, zoology and physiology. The extension classes will be conducted by these professors.

On Saturday, May 29, the third an unal conference on manual training will be held. President Hervey will make the introductory address at 11 a. m., and will be followed by Charles B. Gilbert, Superintendent of City Schools of Newark, N. J., who will speak on "Manual Training in the Public Schools," which is the general topic of the conference. Professor Bennett, of Teachers' College, invites discussion of certain propositions concerning manual ressor Bennett, of reachers Coning, intrices inscussion of certain propositions concerning manual training for grammar grades, which are the outcome of an effort recently made in one of the classes at Teachers College to formulate principles which should govern manual training work in public schools. In the belief that discussion of these definite statements will be of practical use to teachers, they are printed in the programme sent out, in order that all interested may come prepared to take part in the discussion. Among those who are to participate are Dr. James C. Haney, supervisor of manual training in New-York City; George B. Kilbon, principal of the Manual Training School, Springfield, Mass.; Charles D. Larkin, principal of the Manual Training High School in Brooklyn, and Thomas W. Mather, principal of the Eoardman Manual Training School, New-Haven, Conn.

NEW-YORK UNIVERSITY

An important conference of professors of English in colleges and universities and representatives of prominent high schools and academies will be held at the University on Monday, May 31, and the following day. The principal object of the conference will be the consideration of the working of the system of entrance examinations in English adopted three years ago, and the selection of books for the examinations of the years 1900 and 1901. It is expected that committees will be present representing the National Teachers' Association and other prominent bodies, and the whole subject of the entrance examinations will be considered. The members of the conference will be Professor F. H. Stoddard, of New-York University; Professor G. R. Carpenter, of Columbia University; Wilson Farrand, of Newark Academy; Professor C. T. Winchester, of Wesleyan University; Professor Albert S. Cook, of Yale; Professor L. B. R. Briggs, of Harvard; Frank A. Hill, Boston, Mass.; S. A. Thurber, Roxbury, Mass.; Professor M. A. ### CITY COLLEGE.

tees has appointed a sub-committee of three to receive applications for the professorship of English literature left vacant by the death of Professor George E. Hardy. It will probably require considerable time for the committee to report on any recommendation, as the place is a peculiar one, in that it requires a man who is not only capable of directing a course already established, but also one who has had sufficient experience in public schools to enable him to establish a course continu-schools to enable him to establish a course continuous with that in the schools.

Competitors for the Riggs and Kelly prizes have been summoned to appear before the trustees of the Riggs medal in the president's office on Tuesday, May 25, at 12:25 p. m., at which time the subjects upon which essays are to be written will be presented. The subjects are: Senior Riggs, "Contribution of America to Political Science", Junior Riggs, "The Sixtieth Anniversary of Victoria's Reign"; Kelly Critique, "The Story of the Holy Grail, as told in Tennyson's 'Idylis of the King.'"

The results of the competition will be announced at commencement. at commencement.
